The unrestricted business meeting for the global ferroalloys industry

Fontainebleau Miami Beach
Miami Beach, Florida
October 28-30, 2012

The eighteenth annual Ryan's Notes Ferroalloys Conference will stick to its tried-and-true tradition of respecting the industry and the way it does business. In a welcoming and relaxed atmosphere, delegates will have optimal amounts of time to meet privately with colleagues, attend two networking cocktail receptions, sit in on conference sessions where at least 20 speakers will deliver papers on ferroalloys markets and trends and gather informally at luncheons, on the golf course, on the tennis court and during unscheduled afternoons.

While it is a break from the daily grind, the Ryan's Notes Conference is, above all, a business meeting for over 600 delegates involved with ferroalloys. Delegates are able to meet with people they need to see and acquire useful information in the course of the meeting. Those who require extra services in the form of private meeting rooms or suites know that they will be charged the hotel rates with no mark-up fees or onerous regulations.

Ryan's Notes measures the value of its meeting in terms of the business opportunities and successes the meeting affords delegates. Our record speaks for itself: The Ryan's Notes Ferroalloys Meeting offers unmatched value and is the premier industry event of the year.
